

MIA WEBINAR SERIES

EVERYTHING ABOUT DIVIDEND

17 January 2024 (Wednesday), 9.00 am – 5.00 pm

The payment of dividends is one of the ways a company "shares the wealth" generated from running the business. Companies may distribute the profit it makes from capital that shareholders have invested. These are usually a cash payment to investors, but may take other forms of settlement. Dividends are commonly paid on an annual basis but at times the company may decide to distribute its profit more than once.

The payment of dividend to shareholders will however leave the company with fewer assets with which to meet its liabilities to creditors. For that reason, the Companies Act 2016 imposes provisions on directors to ensure the company is solvent before making such distribution. Even if the solvency test is met, there are other legal considerations the company has to adhere to.

The programme seeks to help you understand the statutory requirements on distribution of profits and the consequences of declaring an unlawful dividend. You will learn the necessary steps to take to ensure solvency of the company, and have a clearer understanding on the parties who have the right to declare the dividends, the timing of payment, and various methods of payment. This programme covers the declaration of dividends of private companies and public (both listed and unlisted) companies.

OBJECTIVES

This programme seeks to help you:

- Gain a better understanding of what constitutes a lawful dividend payment
- Advise directors on the type of solvency test to take
- Understand the implications of Unclaimed Monies provisions on the Company Secretary
- Differentiate between single tier dividend and tax exempt dividend
